INTRODUCING the Addition of Holbox Island, Mexico

A Tropical Island Getaway

Experience the turquoise waters and relaxing island breeze of Holbox, Mexico, a 26-mile-long island off the northern tip of the Yucatán Peninsula. On Holbox Island, you'll enjoy white-sand beaches and dazzling displays of colorful local street art. For the adventuresome traveler, go kitesurfing, snorkel in the bioluminescent waters along the coast, or even swim with whale sharks.

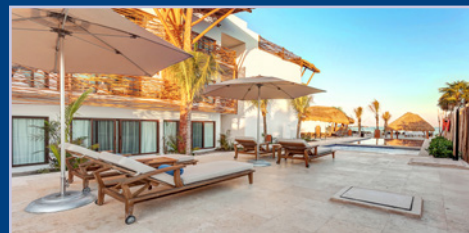

Holbox Island can only be reached via a 20-minute ferry ride from the town of Chiquila. Roundtrip transfers from Cancun and Riviera Maya are available. Cars aren't permitted on the island, so locals and tourists make their way around using golf carts and bicycles.
